Published four times a year, AA traveller focuses on local, African and international travel routes and destinations, ranging from rustic camping trips to luxury lodge stays. Regular features cover important conservation topics, eco-tourism and exciting outdoor activities (such as hiking, fishing, water-sports, off-roading and birding). Readers are kept up to date on relevant events and festivals, while consumer advice articles, information on the latest products from the leisure industry and recipe write-ups receive special attention. The AA's commitment to motoring and related road-travel issues remains a key aspect of the magazine.
